CALL PUBLIC MEETING; TALK SIFTONS POLICY

Petition Being Presented to Mayor to Call Citizens to Discuss Abandonment of Line to North

Mayor Lee at noon today announced that he had accepted the request of a petition from the citizens and called a public meeting for Monday evening at eight o'clock in the old Post Office building, to discuss the railway situation.

Edmonton citizens are gradually awakening to a sense of the danger of the policy of the Sifton administration in abandoning the Alberta and Great Waterways railway, and are making an alternative proposal. Edmonton wants a railway to the north, and the mayor will probably call that meeting. F. G. Halahan and others are in charge of the petition, and will present it to the mayor today. They ask that the meeting be called for Monday evening, in the old post office building on McDougall street.

MUCH DEPENDS ON COMING WEEK

The petition is being largely signed by business men, and it is expected that the majority of the business men as well as a very large number of citizens will have attached their signatures to the petition. The probabilities are that when the debate is concluded in the house on the premier's policy, the premier will find himself confronted, not only with a strong opposition on the floor of the house, but with a solid body of Edmonton and northern citizens who will demand of him some policy of development of the north, and who will insist that the government take away.

MILLION DOLLARS IN LAND CHANGE HANDS

During a week of real estate activity as Edmonton has not experienced in many a day, deals in city business property totalling nearly a million dollars have been made, through and others are pending which will bring the total well up over the million mark before very many days have elapsed.

The Grand Trunk deal. Probably the most important of these deals, one, which although it has not been officially confirmed, may amount to a million dollars, is that in which the Grand Trunk Pacific railway are reported to have taken an option on the Grand Trunk hotel block, on McDougall avenue, at $250,000. This deal alone has caused a boom in property in that vicinity which gives promise of other important deals going through.

SELL MOOSE HEAD TO CITY

L. F. Proctor. Got a Big One and Wants City to Buy Head.

Lemuel F. Proctor brought into the city a magnificent specimen of a moose which he shot at Smoky Lake, about seventy miles north of the city a few days ago. The animal weighs about two pounds and has a magnificent head, which measures 55 inches from the tip of the nose to the spread.

15 KILLED IN FACTORY FIRE

Newark Paper Box Factory Burns —Scores of Employees Injured Seriously.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 26.—Fifteen persons are reported to have been killed in the factory of the Newark Paper Box Company today. An hour after the fire started eleven bodies had been taken from the building. Nearly all the victims were young women. Scores of employees are said to have been injured.

Dr. Parkin, of England, trustee of the Rhodes Scholarship, will reach the city this evening, and will be met by the Lieutenant-Governor David. He will address the Canadian Club on Monday at one o'clock.

MUCH DEPENDS ON COMING WEEK

Premier Sifton's whole political life is staked on the result of the fight that will undoubtedly occur in the house next week, when his railway policy is taken up in debate. His bill to eliminate the Great Waterways and appropriate the money for the construction of the new railway, is the most dangerous legislation that the house has yet had to deal with, and with the result the vote of the house will be the final word on the matter.

BD. OF TRADE TAKES ACTION

The following is the resolution passed by the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon:

"The Board of Trade views with alarm that the provincial government proposes to abandon the project of building a railway northward from Edmonton to Fort McMurray on the Athabasca river. The board is of the opinion that such action would be decidedly against the interests of the city of Edmonton, and the province of Alberta as a whole.

M. I. L. TICKET

FOR MAYOR
W. H. Clark.
FOR ALDERMEN
James Picard.
A. E. Potter.
Dr. H. L. McInnes.
C. L. Gibbs.

The above is the Municipal Improvement League ticket for the civic elections of 1910. The ticket was chosen after a lengthy discussion by the league at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms last night. The procedure consisted of the report of the committee chosen to review the situation and to frame, if found expedient, a ticket. The ticket as reported by the committee did not contain a mayoral candidate, but it was subsequently decided to place Mr. Clark's name out of the list and place him in the field for the chief magistracy.

The league has evidently found difficulty in getting candidates, as those named above are not pledged to accept the position of the league's platform. Major Griesbach also stated that Messrs. Picard, Potter and McInnes had not yet accepted the nomination, but he thought they would.

SIFTON MAY LET BANK AND RAILWAY SUE

No action has yet been taken by John H. Moss, representing the A. and G. W. nor by the officials of the bank now in the city, to institute proceedings against the provincial government to enforce the claims they have as a result of the abandonment of the line. That they will take proceedings against the government there is no doubt. They are now engaged in working up their case and it is expected that an announcement as to how they intend to proceed will be made in a few days.

It is stated that the premier will consent to opening the courts of the province to both the bank and the railway company should they decide to commence proceedings, but even should he refuse to do this, the cases will undoubtedly be carried to the privy council.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO HAMILTON

Enormous Crowd Assembling to Witness the Final Football Game of Season.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—All roads lead to Hamilton today. Toronto is teeming up today with a crowd of about 10,000 people, and a boatload filled with rugby fans. Lovers of the game are going all the way from Montreal on the last Canadian train to North and Windsor on the West. Every town, village and hamlet is sending its quota to the game and attendance will mark a new low for Canadian rugby.

There is only one change in the announced line up. Hamilton playing Barron on the line in place of Scott. Varsity may be forced to make a change in the line, as Hamilton's line has a bad knee and it is feared that he will not go far. However, there is a good substitute for him in Campbell.

"I CARE NOT WHO BUILDS IT; THE ROAD SHOULD BE BUILT"

C. W. Cross Delivers Striking Reply to Premier's Pronouncement of Policy A. & G. W. Bill Introduced for Second Reading in the House Yesterday

"This bill is practically the foreclosure of an agreement by the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company. The government of Alberta is liable to the bond holders, and it therefore becomes necessary to take action to save the credit of the province, and to see that a proper expenditure of the money is made. I think the feelings of the house and the feelings of the country will justify the placing of this matter in control of the legislature.—Premier Sifton, on the Waterways bill. The people of this province supported the Rutherford government on a policy of railway development, and the members of this house were elected on that policy.

"I am opposed to this bill because I believe that it means the abandonment of the development of the north. I care not who builds a road into the north, I want a road built, and that is what the people of the north want.

"If the C. P. R. had been built through Edmonton as once proposed, the majority of the people would have been north of Edmonton, north of Edmonton. I firmly believe that north of Edmonton is the richest mineral country in the Dominion."—Ex-Authority-General Cross on the Waterways bill.

75 BILLS FACE LEGISLATURE

House Will Hardly Be Able to Complete Work Before Christmas.

THE BUDGET NEXT WEEK

Big Battle Over Estimates Deciding How to Spend A. & G. W. Money.

Much as the members of the legislature desire it, there is little likelihood that the session of the house for presenting petitions for the completion of the bill on the Waterways bill yesterday afternoon, on the above point of order raised by the speaker.

Interrupting the premier as he was about to rise to deliver his speech in support of the bill, Bennett raised this point of order, contending that the premier's bill had not been printed and had before the house one full day before second reading as provided by Rule 40 of the house. He thereby prevented a different statement being made by the premier, following which notwithstanding that the speaker ruled in favour of the premier's bill, the speaker ruled in favour of the premier's bill.

Legislation has been piling up at a rapid rate. Thursday was the final day for presenting petitions for private bills, and the order paper is now crammed with measures, private and public, that will keep the house busy another 6 weeks.

Budget Next Week

Premier Sifton will bring down his budget next week, probably about Thursday, or possibly immediately after the completion of the debate on the Waterways bill. Expectations are that there will be a big battle over the estimates, for they will provide for the expenditure of the Great Waterways money. There will probably be many divisions of the house over the various items.

With the waterways question and the budget before the house, there is little likelihood of the house getting through for a couple of weeks.

The field naturally was, very strong and slippery, not to mention slushy, and the game was a hard one to watch. The weather is clear after a few snow flakes last night, and the game was discussed for their weight benefits handicapping Varsity in their speed, great tackling and trick plays. The clock is now showing 7 to 5 on Varsity and will probably hit 6 to 5 or even before the game starts at 2:45 this afternoon.

what has already been done in regard to this company. It has been seriously discussed, and the fact that the people connected with this railway company were of limited means and that they were unable to carry out the undertaking for which they received assistance, it has been discussed the fact of the government's decision to take action that took place in regard to that railway in connection both with its organization and the extravagant manner in which some things were said to have been done—with regard to what took place in connection with the carrying out of the work they did do. It has been said that this railway company, and the parties who composed the company have ignored this legislature and ignored the courts of this country during the past year. But here, even if it so, would not be reasons for introducing the bill that you are being asked to read the second time today. I think the reasons that would justify the introduction of this bill are the reasons that are set forth in the bill itself in regard to what has taken place. I think that this company chartered in February, 1909, according to what is stated in the bill, and that the evidence before the Royal Commission, and what is the knowledge of the people of the country at the time, and that the requirements of the statutes and had not constructed their line, and that the construction of their line, and we find that in addition to this they have made default in payment of the interests upon their bonds.

"This bill, therefore, becomes practically the foreclosure of an agreement, or non-fulfillment of the contract that was made by the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Company, and it is a serious position no doubt, a large amount of money was realized from the sale of these bonds, and the province of Alberta is liable to the bondholders and under no circumstances can the province of Alberta be expected to save the credit of the province, and in order to see that the money for which the bonds were sold has been issued are placed on the table of the legislature of this country and a proper expenditure made of the money. These are the only things that are dealt with in this bill, the only things that are proper to be dealt with in this bill, the only things that are proper to be dealt with at this present time and I think that the feelings of the people of this country after an examination, as they have examined these matters, as they are thoroughly cognizant of what has taken place, would justify this house in passing this bill to second reading, and I propose to deal with the control of the legislature of this country.

"I think I am not asking too much of this house under the circumstances that have been recalled to you in asking that the second reading of this bill pass.

Mr. Cross was applauded vigorously when he rose to speak. He said: "I am very sorry that upon the first occasion that I address this house since I have been given the honour of these affairs, I have to rise to oppose him in this bill that has just been introduced."

"I am opposing him because I believe that the bill itself practically means that a railway will not be built into the north country, or at least that its building will be postponed indefinitely. I propose to deal with the history of this matter to a certain extent. I remember that when Mr. Rutherford first came to the country over a year ago, it was upon his railway policy that he asked the support of the people. This railway policy was divided into two parts. We said to the people in the south of this province, 'I have a railway policy, service that you have been giving me, service that you have had the C. P. R. for the past twenty years, but during the past five years since the C. P. R. has been in the hands of the C. P. R., can no longer handle the traffic, and we said, we propose to develop a railway policy that will give you competition, that will give you the C. P. R., and the C. P. R. will be able to handle the traffic.'"

"Over one hundred years ago, in 1876, the wheat that took the prize was sent to the C. P. R. It was a railway policy that took the prize, and it was a railway policy that took the prize. It seems strange to me that in this year 1910, to realize the possibilities of that northern country, and the C. P. R. will be able to handle the traffic."

THE ROAD MUST BE BUILT

"I want to see the road built; I care not who builds it."
This is the concrete declaration by the senior member for Edmonton, a declaration which expresses the Edmonton idea in a nutshell. Firm in his faith in the enormous possibilities of the illimitable north, C. W. Cross presented the case for the construction of the road from Edmonton to the waterways in a manner which leaves little to be added and no room for reply.

Unimpassioned, logical and deliberate, his words were the words of a representative who is in closest touch with his constituency, who is alive to the needs of the city and country which he represents, and who is set in the conviction that an injury will be done unless the ideas expressed are carried out.

The case as presented in the legislature yesterday is the case which Edmonton is fighting at the present time.

So far as the city of Edmonton is concerned, it makes not a particle of difference by whom the road to Fort McMurray is built, just so long as it is built.

The government, as Mr. Cross puts it, has many options as to how the road might be built, but if Edmonton is ever to come into her own it must be in one way or the other.

The questions which were before the house at the last session with regard to the contract with the company which had undertaken to build the road are no longer before the house. If Mr. Sifton's bill is to be interpreted literally it means that that company has been eliminated and that the province is free to make whatever arrangement it chooses.

Such being the case, the government, in justice to the city of Edmonton and the north country, must undertake to provide a railway in some manner.

The sentiments expressed by the board of trade, when they say, in effect, that a promise has been made that this road will be built and that on that promise investments have been made in this city and in this country, is a sentiment which must be taken seriously by the members of the legislature and by the government of the province.

Alberta cannot for any cause afford to break faith with the people and the interests who have taken the government at its word.

Alberta cannot afford to have settlers who have been promised land and an opportunity to make a home in this country come here to find that the only available land is many miles from the nearest railway and that the government has declared that railway transportation will not be given. Let such an idea get abroad and the flow of settlement from United States is stopped.

Edmonton cannot afford to have the trade of the north country which is naturally tributary to this city carried east and made tributary to Battleford and the cities at the eastern end of the Dominion.

Edmonton cannot remain a city on the edge of the map, with only one side of its domain developed.

Edmonton cannot become a city of first magnitude until this city becomes the meeting place of two streams of trade, from the north and the west, the converging centre at which traffic is re-handled on its way to and from the markets of the world.

Edmonton in particular, and the province of Alberta in general, cannot afford to go on record as lacking faith in the adaptability for human settlement of one half of the province.

Failure to build a road to the north is an open admission that the possibilities of the north country do not justify a railway, that the country does not invite the Caucasian race, that Edmonton marks the northern limitation of settlement and that the two thousand miles beyond must always remain a tenantless waste, useless and void.

Such a declaration by Albertans would prove them unworthy of the name Canadian, would brand them as a people of little faith, as a tribe of doubters, as servants who wrap their single talent in a napkin, as yellow quitters who have no place in the large scheme of things which makes up the spirit of the west.

The road must be built!
The chorus joins with the senior member for Edmonton: "I want to see the road built; I care not who builds it."

How would you like to be an Edmonton member and have to vote against a railway to the north country.

Just nine more days to nomination and only two aldermanic candidates in the field. Come on boys! don't be bashful.

The dukes in England will probably not bother to do their shopping early. After the election they will have little else to do.

The righteousness of the name Oyster Bay is now better understood. Roosevelt is about the dumbest yet—since November 8.

The Calgary police are asking more pay. Mr. Shearer should look into conditions in Calgary at once. The poor fellows are probably overworked.

It commences to look now as though the tyrant English have their choice between setting Ireland free or submitting to a dictatorship headed by John Redmond.

If Federenko is taken back to Russia they will put him in prison for life, but if they turn him loose in Winnipeg, the Ruthies will probably put him in the legislature.

Some of the members of the Alberta legislature seem to have the conservation idea all right enough, but they want the conserving done from this end instead of from Ottawa.

The Calgary Albertan is amazed that Edmonton newspapers should discover the gist of proceedings at a party caucus. Can it be that the Albertan was scooped as well.

QUAKERS WILL BE STRONGER IN THE 1911 PENNANT RACE

(By T. H. Murnane.)
I think Johnnie Evers' complaint to Collins, the electric second baseman of the Athletics, was the finest thing ever pulled off in baseball, and goes to show the caliber of a man this great Chicago classic is, both on and off the ball field.

In commenting for the press on the work of Collins in the games at Chicago, Evers says that nothing finer could be imagined. Evers gives Collins credit for remarkable speed, a fine knowledge for knowing where to hit for the batsman and the ability to hit from all angles, showing he had the pleasure of looking over.

Just before the first game at Chicago Evers worked his way with the help of two crutches, to the front of the grandstand and had a hearty shake hands with the modern game's second baseman. Then Evers took his seat back of the screen and observed every move made by Collins. Evers knew how second base should be played, and was fairly carried away with the Quaker's ability to be in the right spot for the grounder sent seven second and first base.

On two occasions Harry Davis ran to first base when it was his play seemingly to field the ball, and the pitcher to cover first base, but the answer was satisfactory each time when Collins came up with a fast grounder, not 15 feet from the right line, and the man was thrown out at first. Collins managed to get to the base for the throw and was never the fraction of a second late on any play that came to his territory. This interested the great second baseman of the Chicago club, who has made a fine study of this line of work, and naturally he wanted to the ball playing put up by the Quaker.

Perhaps no two ball players were ever more alike in their thinking than Evers and Collins, both working with their heads and forcing the pitcher to hit off the style ball they intended to give the batsman. The contrast between Zimmerman and Evers was simply remarkable, and made plain the fact that a second baseman must have more than his hands and feet to make good in major league company.

It also made it quite plain that Evers and Collins are the strength of the two clubs that contended for honors on the world's series.

How many players are there today in the business going to pieces at the want of generalship, and who could see from where he said how easy it was to better the coming champions, and yet be blamed no one but gave credit to the boy who produced the goods, and did it in a way that made him friends all over the country. He told the truth as he saw it, and had the nerve to say that Collins was the greatest ball player that he had ever seen, a better hitter than Lajoie, and taking all together a more

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 25.—Monte Attehl, of San Francisco, tonight was given a decision over Jimmy Walsh, of Boston, after ten rounds of bloody fighting.

Attehl claims the hansom weight championship by virtue of his victory. The San Francisco youth won against great odds.

Phil McKenzie, of Montreal, will do the refereeing. The Tigers have refused to allow a Toronto man to act.

VARSITY AND GYM TEAM WON

Dr. Follinsbee Scored Twelve Baskets for the Varsity. Quintette.

There were two first games in the senior basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, the winners turning in in Varsity and the Gym team. In the first game the Gym. met had a ding-dong battle with the Key-stones, eventually winning out by 23 to 21. The half time score was 13 to 14. Seyches and Duncan did the lion's share of the scoring.

"I am not too great an admirer of the American citizen nor of his form of government, but I do admire the way the American develops his country. The only reason that we have not a large population in this province, the only reason that we have not large cities here, is the lack of both in the country.

"While the premier has seen fit to bring forth this legislation, I have not given up the hope some time convincing him that a railway should be built into that country as soon as possible. The land between Edmonton and Lac la Biche is as good as anywhere in the province. I venture to say that there is no land in the province any better than that you will find between Edmonton and Lac la Biche, and east of Lac la Biche.

"The Lac la Biche country, said Mr. Cross, had been settled for a great many years. The only reason why there was not now a city at Lac la Biche was purely the lack of railway facilities. Some members were rather tired, he said, but he did not purpose to dwell upon this to any extent. He wanted to tell the members, however, that on the banks of the Athabasca river there was sufficient asphalt which, if hauled over a railway, would pay the cost, any company was put to, to build the road. It had been suggested by some of the members that the province should wait until the resources of that country were better known. He wanted to ask the members if they thought oil companies would undertake boring operations at Fort McMurray if there were no transportation facilities. Out at Morinville oil was likely to be struck at any time. It would have been impossible for the Morinville company to have carried on their extensive operations if they had been 250 miles from railway facilities. He firmly believed that north of Edmonton there was the richest mineral country in the whole Dominion.

"I am urging Premier Sifton to build a road into that country. I care not who builds the road, so long as we get a railway. South of Edmonton there is hardly any free homestead land. North of Edmonton the land is all open. If that railway had been built this year, 100 miles of it had been built, 25,000 settlers would have gone into the country over it.

"I do not wish to raise any division between the north and the south; for me there is no dividing line. While one year we may have a poor crop here, the south have a good crop, and vice versa. It is well known that there was a poor crop in the south this year, but that affected one part of the province it affected all the province. This is the first year that it has been said that Americans came to Canada, and went back to their homes. I want to point out that if the north country is opened, what occurred this year in the matter of immigration will never occur again. If the settlers that come here find poor conditions in the south they can come to the north.

"I was one member of a delegation from Edmonton that went to Ottawa a few years ago in connection with the location of the capital of this province. As we all know there was a great deal of rivalry between Edmonton and Calgary in that matter. We recognized that Calgary was a larger city, as we recognize that it is now. But we pointed out that Edmonton was the centre of the province, and I believe that it was very much on the strength of that argument, when we showed them at Ottawa that Edmonton was actually the geographical centre, that secured us the location of the capital.

I am opposed to this bill because I believe it means the delay in the building of a road into that north country. I care not what road builds there. The premier has now four options. He has the option of giving the province take it over, he has the option of leaving it to the A. and G. W. Co. or also the option of entering into negotiations with the C. N. R. and G. W. Co.

"He has also another option. The members of this house will remember that there was one member who was prepared to build this road at a cost of $10,000 a mile. Have the government given this offer any consideration? Have they asked his member to come through with his offer again? The senior member for Calgary last session stated that this A. and G. W. contract had been made without his consent. That he was prepared to put up a bond of half a million that he would build the road to Fort McMurray, that he would provide everything required, and with no extra charge for sidings, and that he would further be prepared to build it for $10,000 a mile. It is easy to be patriotic when it doesn't cost any money.

During the last few days I have been talking to some old timers. Two of those old timers came here last week. They believed that the leader of the government at Ottawa at that time, Alex. McKenzie, would build a railway here. It was the whole policy of the McKenzie administration to build the C. P. R. railway along the North Saskatchewan through Edmonton. The old timers have been saying to me that conditions would be very much different than they are today, if that railway had been built through Edmonton. The majority of the people in the province would have been north of Edmonton instead of south.

I can imagine, had this come to pass, that instead of our friends from Athabasca and Peace River coming to the legislature to beg for railways through their country, we would find the member for Cardston coming with a request for a railway to Cardston.

"The Rutherford government, in providing for a railway to the north country, did so because they believed that in five years the whole trade route of the country would be changed, that the grain of the country would be shipped through Edmonton and Calgary to the coast, that with the completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Panama Canal, the whole trade route would be west, and Edmonton and Calgary would stand in the same position to Prince Rupert and Vancouver, as Winnipeg now does to Port Arthur.

"What will be the result if the government fail to seize the opportunity? The result will be that a railway will be built from Prince Albert to McMurray that will divert the trade of that country to the east.

"I want to say in conclusion that as a member of the Rutherford administration, I have no apologies to make for any act of mine, nor for any act of that administration. If there are any apologies to be made, I say that they must come from the senior member for Calgary.

"If there has been any mistake made, I can only say that the mistake has been made because we believed that with the building of a railway to McMurray there would be a large city at McMurray, and that with the building of a railway to the Peace river, a large city would rise on the banks of the Peace. If this railway policy had been carried out, we would have seen in the future, at Edmonton, not a city of 30,000 but a city of 200,000.

"I consider that it is in the interests of the province that I should direct the attention of this government to the north country. I have always been an admirer of Clifford Sifton, and I believe that as minister of the interior he did more for the development of the west than any other man in Dominion politics. I hope I will not be disappointed in looking to see his brother display the same genius for development of the country.

J. L. Coxe, Athabasca, moved the adjournment of the debate till Monday.

The GREATEST of All PIANO PLAYERS

As an Ordinary Piano As a Player Piano

It is the finest addition that can be made to any home.

The phenomenal success of the Autonola is due to the fact that it is a piano anybody can play without knowing one note from another.

It yields the choicest treasures in the whole world of music.

It gives the performer a mastery of the key board greater than is possessed by any except a few of the most famous artists.

It proves an educational influence for the children, provides the tired business man with a delightful recreation for his evenings, and gives back to the wife the delight she used to take in music before her other duties prevented her from keeping up her daily practice.

Whether you contemplate the immediate purchase of a piano or not, we want you to know the piano in its latest and best form of development—The Autonola. We want you to call and hear it. You will enjoy it, we are sure.
